SHERMAN, TEXAS

FOREWORD

In presenting the theme for our yearbook

ALL ABOARD FOR 1952

the staff is thinking of Sherman High School as an educational train, made up, as it is, of many related and interdependent parts, but all "pulling together." We hope you will find the simile both apt and appealing.

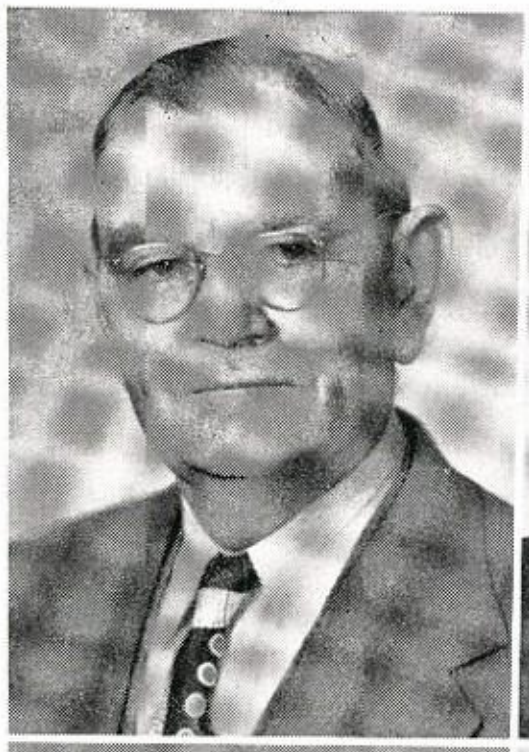
Business Manager of Schools



Superintendent C. D. Landolt

Margaret Henderson, Charles Ketchem, and Ted Brice visit Mr. Landolt in the new offices at the Lee School.

Mr. Landolt directs the Sherman school system. Untiring in his efforts in behalf of the youth of our city, he has made each school feel the result of his progressive ideas, his sound judgment, and his optimistic enthusiasm. With the promise of wonderful school improvement in the immediate future, we see for Sherman an educational program second to none.

THE CONDUCTOR

Principal Byron Davis

Lynn Judd,
Jeanne Franklin,
and Don Dean visit
Mr. Davis during a study hall period.

Mr. Davis has, for many years, kept our train moving forward toward the goal of "the best in secondary education for Sherman." Always available for counsel and help, Mr. Davis has endeared himself to both parents and students and has marshalled the efforts of an excellent and loyal faculty to further the best interests of the student body.

Maintenance Supervisor

Mr. Ed Stephenson is not about Sherman High School as much as formerly when the main offices were in this building, but there is still the familiar answer to many problems, "Call Mr. Ed."

When the "All Board" is sounded every fall, there is much evidence that Mr. Ed has been on the job all summer.

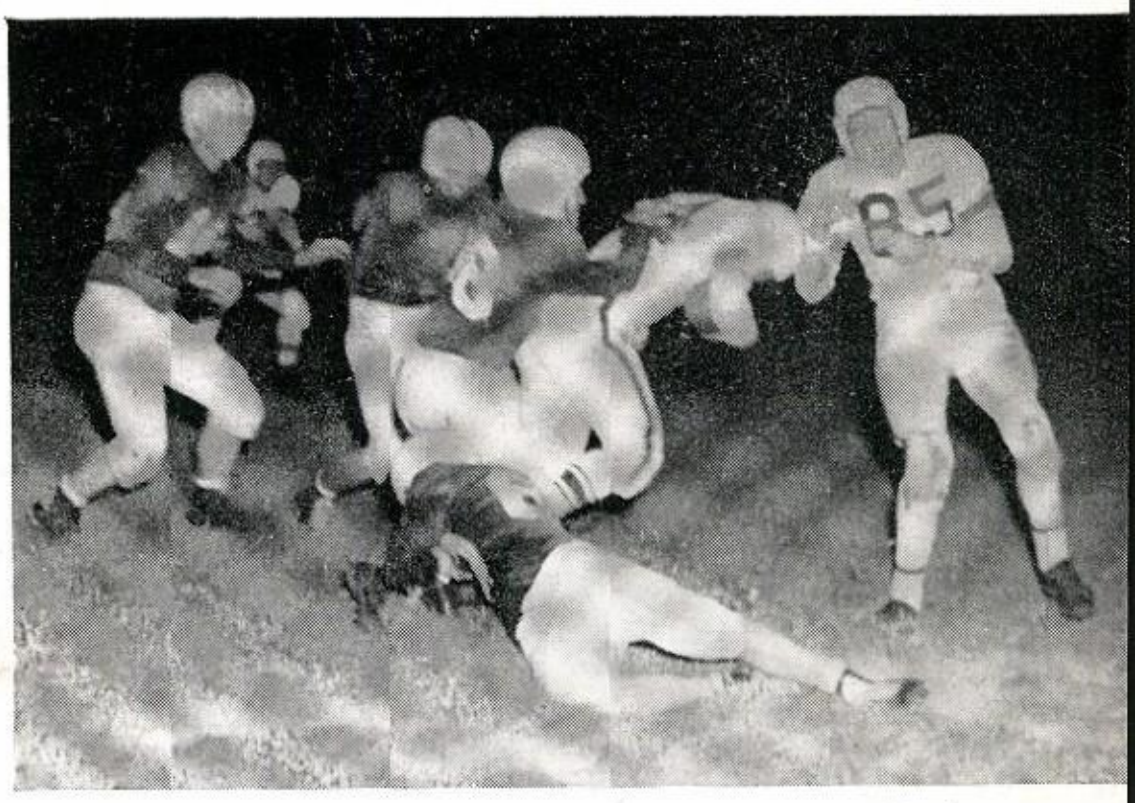
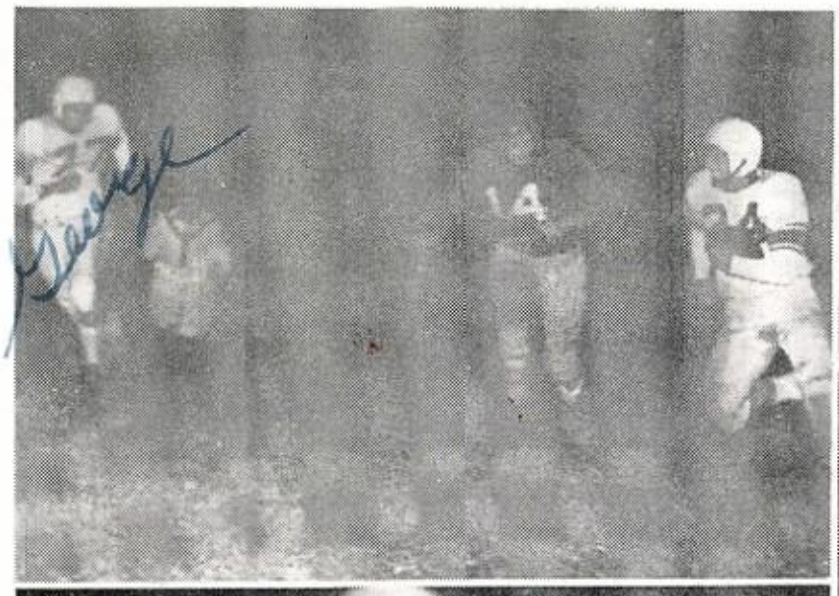
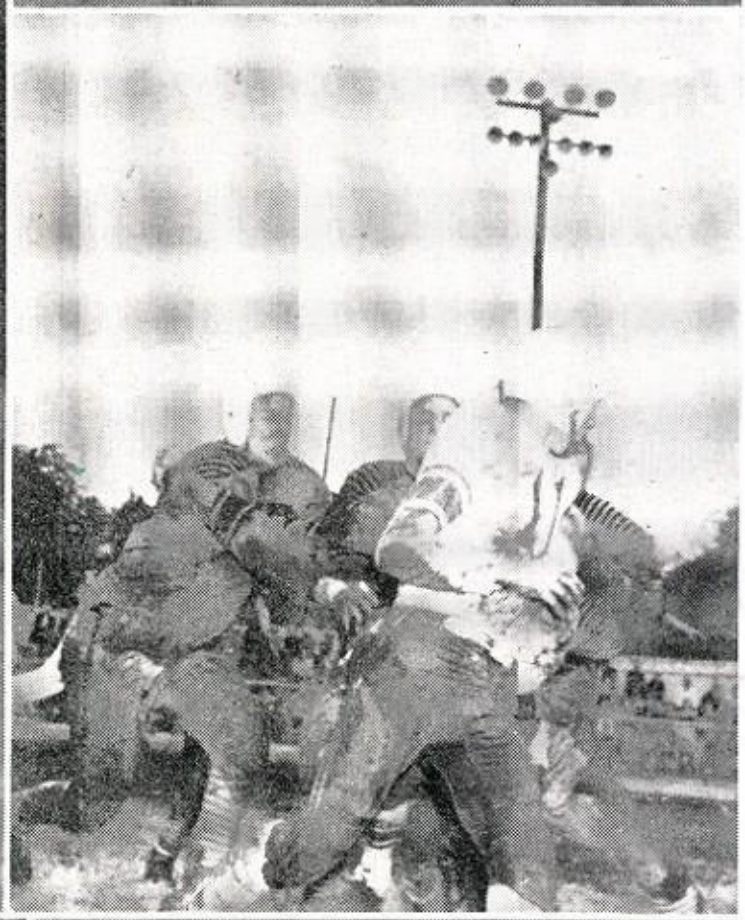
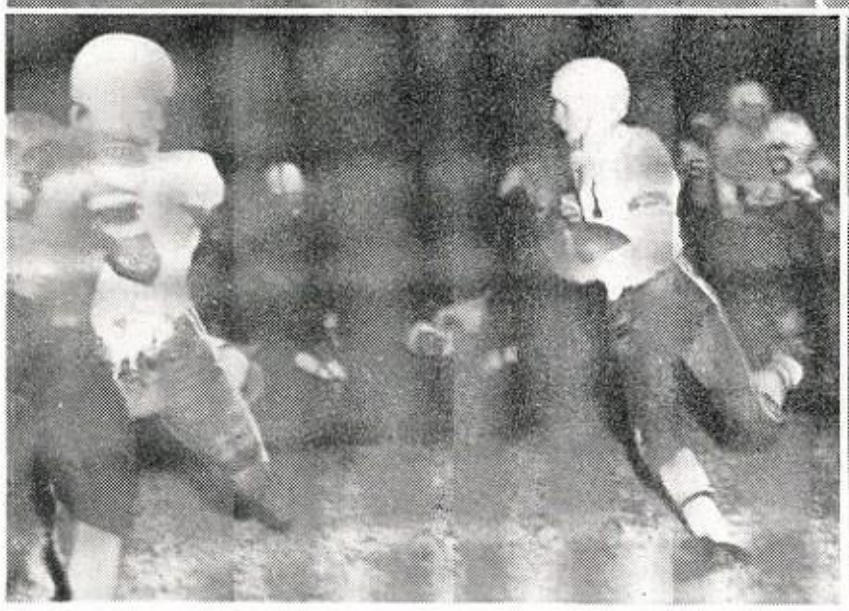
Clawing Gainesville Leopards form a Congo line behind the rampaging James Powell. Tracy Tucker has moved in to lend a hand.









1. Powell pictured outracing beefy Wilson, lineman. 2. Co-captain Helton and Darnell in calmer moods. 3. James Powell ready to set sail after hauling in an aerial. 4. Three ambitious Yellow-Jackets play tag with Don McDonald in the muddy Sherman backfield. 5. McDonald all alone with lots of running room. Darnell and Redding watch from background. 6. Helton's good left hand has desired effect on Waco tackler.

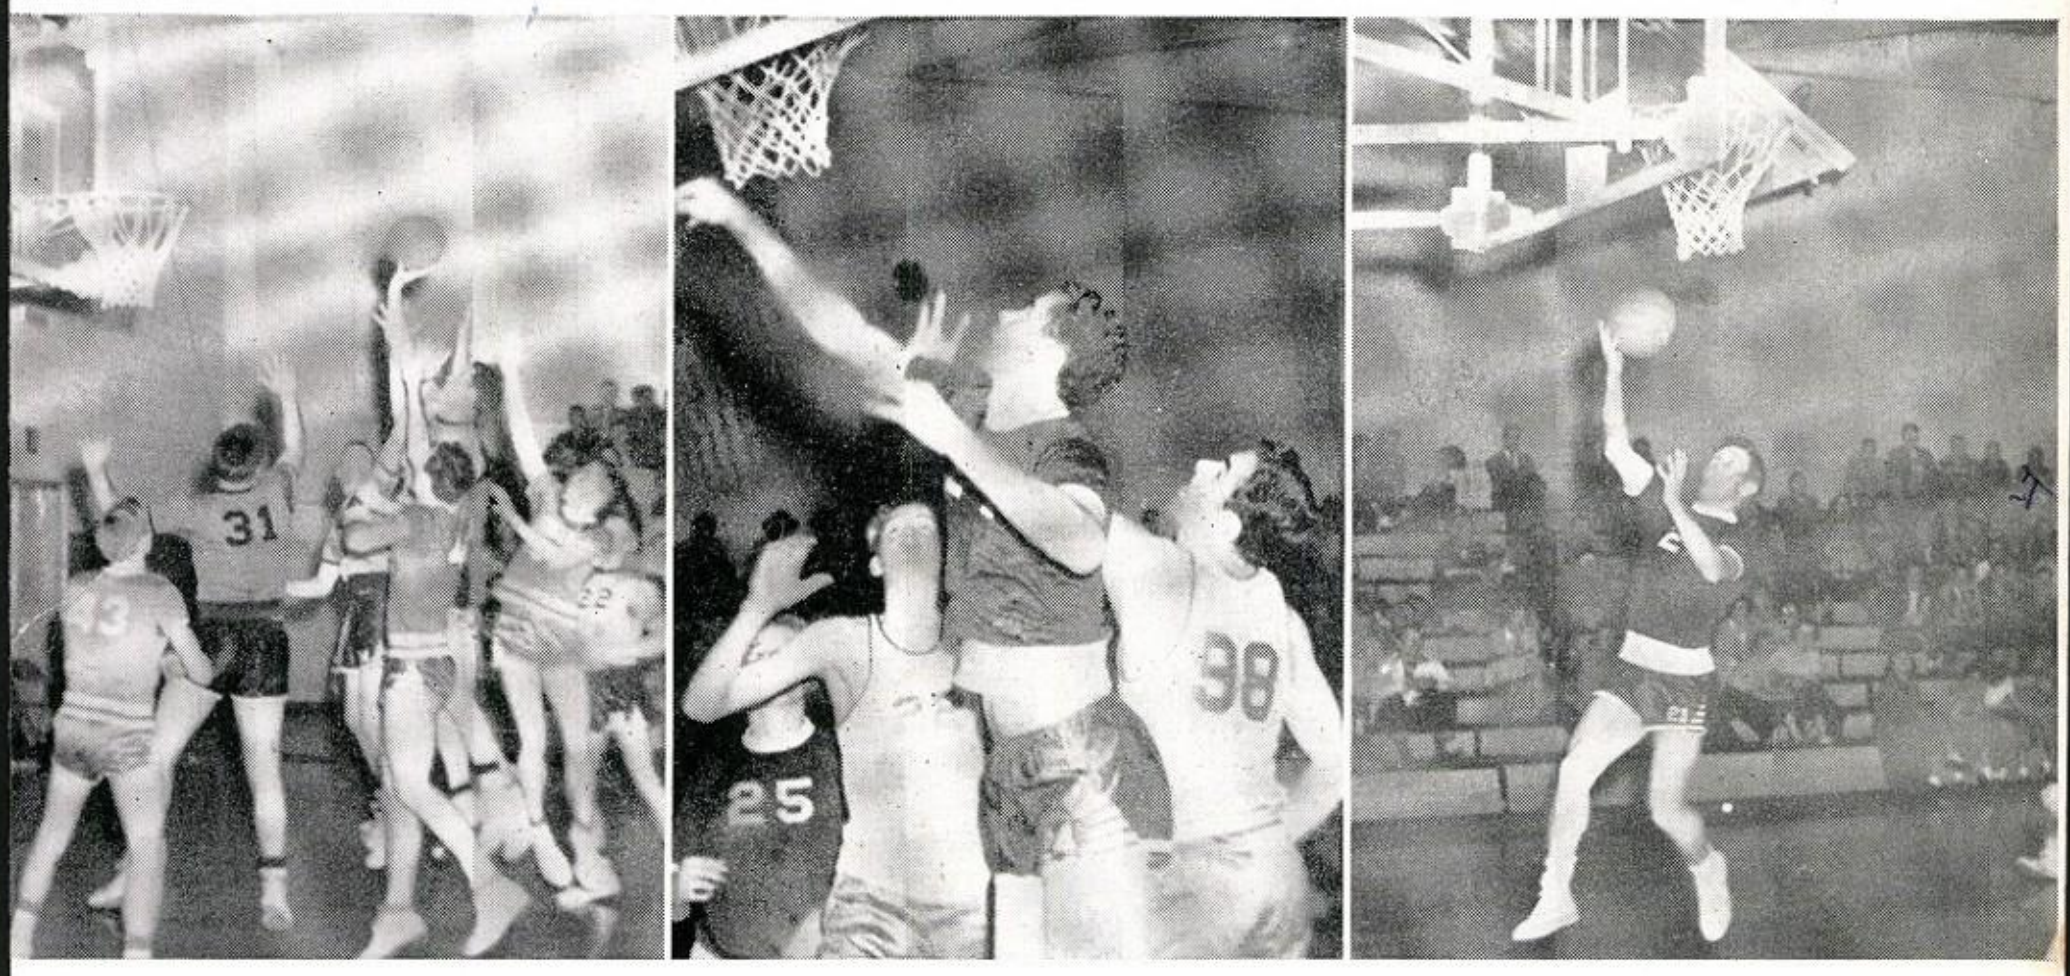
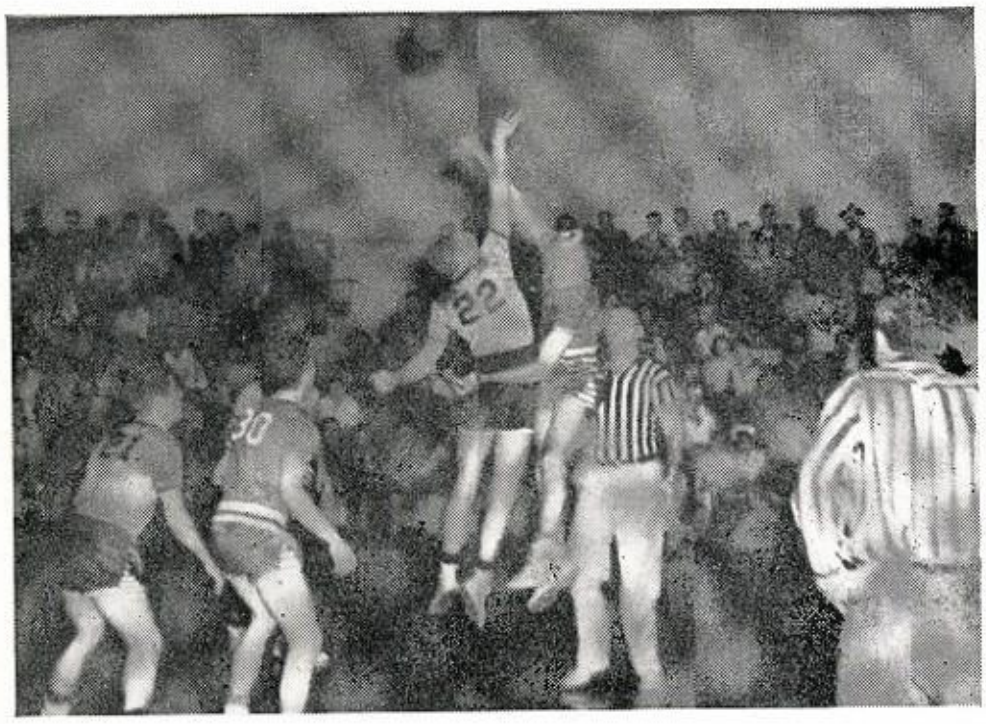
1. Charlie Howard rises to new heights amid clutter of guards. Darnell anticipates tip-in play. 2. Two more points for Charlie. Tucker and two others can't seem to believe it. 3. Helton just stole the ball from Waco and now makes an easy crip shot.





McDonald leaps for the ball in the center circle as the Bearcats get set to move.

Boys' Bowling Club

Frank Seestrom rolls a potential strike at the Sherman Bowling Lanes during a regular Thursday afternoon meeting. Members of the club are interested in bowling as a hobby and are sponsored by Mr. Jim Singleton.

Ukelele Club

A quartet of Jack Barcus, Don Morton, ByronHarrison, and Johnny Sloan join their sponsor, Mr. Coffman, in a ukelele number. The members of the club have spent a year enjoying and learning more about their hobby.

Canasta Club

Members of the Canasta Club, which meets in the library with Miss Ruth Gray and Miss Elizabeth Thomas as sponsors, are interested in learning to play the game and in becoming more proficient players. The 21 members also study rules of party etiquette.

Make-Up Club

Betty Moore puts the finishing touches of make-up on William Buckley, member of the cast of "Our Town," while Robert Rea and Don Williams offer suggestions. The 20 members of the club do most of the make-up for the plays presented by High School groups, under the direction of Mrs. Stanley Hayes.

Needlecraft Club

Each girl in the club has her individual project. Projects include embroidery, needlepoint, knitting, and crocheting. Miss Fay Noble and Mrs. Harold Pace lend a helping hand.

Reading Club

Eddie Vestal, Maxine Blankenship, Joe Graves, and Miss Root discuss a current book of interest. The members of the club review books during the year and sponsor book reviews for others. They learn more about how to pick and judge their own books.

Model Builders

Motion Picture Appreciation Club

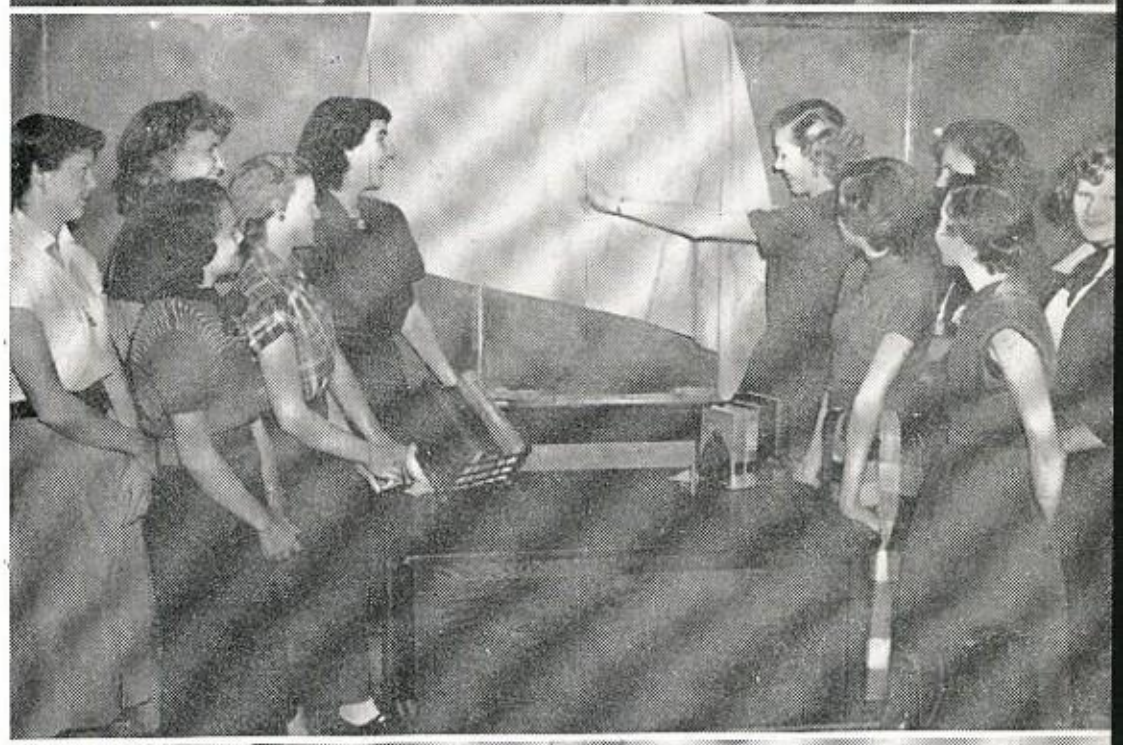
A few of the 19 members of this club are pictured studying notices of "Quo Vadis." They are: Rachel Boatman, Bobby Risk, Mary Lee Reid, and Annie Marie Kerr. Club members are interested in learning to evaluate movies.

Junior Historians

Ann Chaffin, Jane McBurnett, Minta James, Billie Jean Jaco, Miss Myrtle Peacock, sponsor, and Jerry Jennings join in a discussion of local history. The Sherman chapter is a member of the Texas organization.

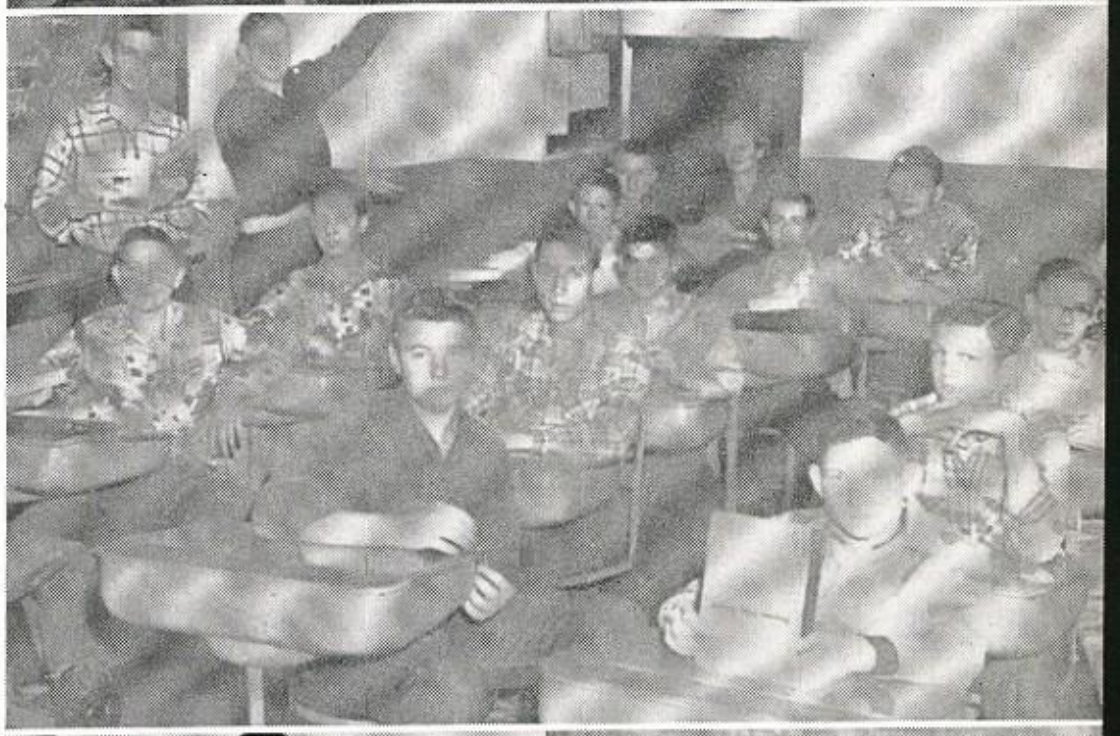
International Relations Club

Pauline O'Neal, president, points proudly to the United Nations flag, a recent gift to the school from the club. Looking on are Peggy Shasteen, Delores Phelps, Janice Hullett, Dorothy Clinton, Sandra Belden, Doris Saltzman, Dorothy McCoy, Barbara Hash, and Mary Ann Gardner.



Anglers' Club

Members of the Anglers' Club list among their year's projects a study of fishing techniques, boating and camping safety, water purification, field trips, and films on these subjects. Club members seem to doubt Wayne Smith's story as they turn their attention toward the photographer.



Junior Dramatic Club

Jerry Kyle, Jerry Taylor, Suzann Beasley, and Lois Peterson record a radio play to improve their speaking and dramatic ability. The members of the club presented the Christmas play this year. They are an apprentice organization to the Footlighters.

BRIDGE CLUB—Room 120

Students became so interested in learning to play bridge that two clubs were formed this year. Here Mr. Sory advises a player to go on to three no-trump while Mrs. Hefton kibitzes at another table. There are 28 members in this club.

Camera Club

The purpose of the Camera Club is to take better pictures by developing the student's appreciation and knowledge of what is to be seen and captured with his camera. Members are: (seated) John D. Wright, B. N. Taliaferro, Joe Lamb, Mac Akins; (standing) Wanda Butts, Martha Ford, Nelda Raidt, Gilford Wisdom, Halbert Shelton, Billy Moseley, Tommy Ayers.

Future Business Leaders of America

The 25 members of the FBLA make field trips to the local business firms to inspect their offices and equipment. Demonstrating new office equipment are: (seated) Barbara Taylor, Barbara Moberly, Dorothy Brown, (standing) Jimmy Morris, Joy Schmidt, Jo Ann Hainline, Bill Lucas.

Outdoor Sportsmen

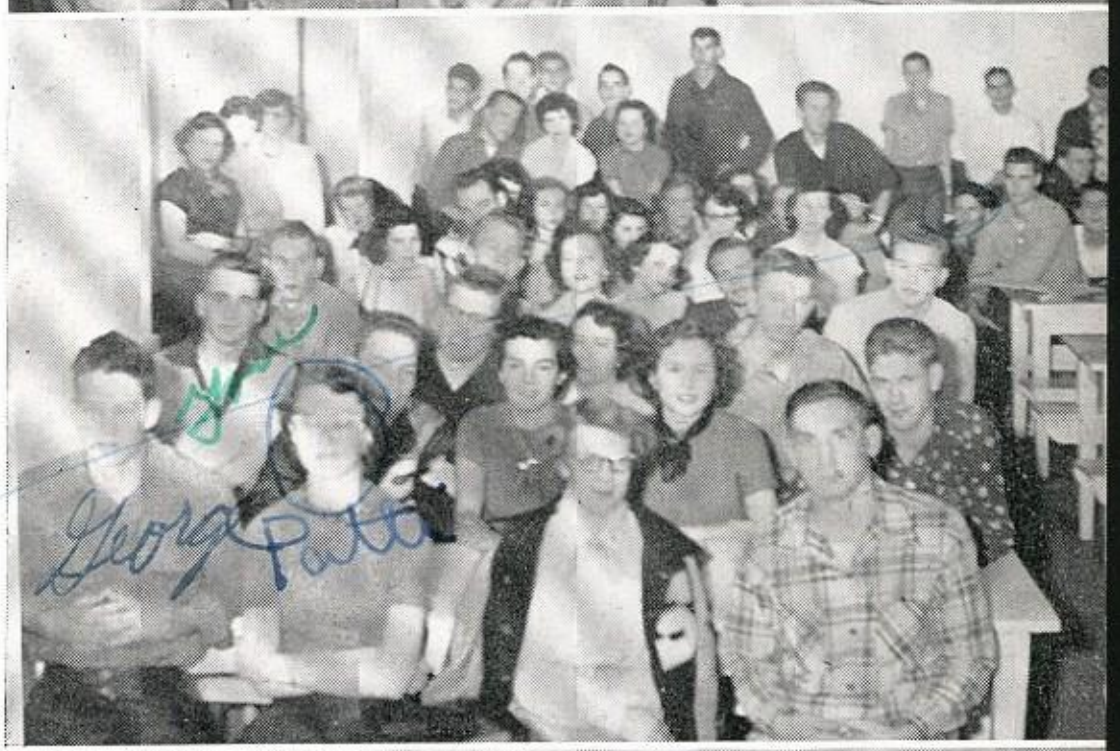
BRIDGE CLUB—Room 100

In evidence are three of the seven-table bridge club (28 members). Facing camera at nearest table is the President, Peggy Mosier, and her partner is the Secretary-Treasurer, Peggy Bartlett.

RECORD CLUB—Dumas

Members enjoy currently popular music. They are interested in learning more about the records they hear and about selecting records for their own collections that will have more value than merely fads.

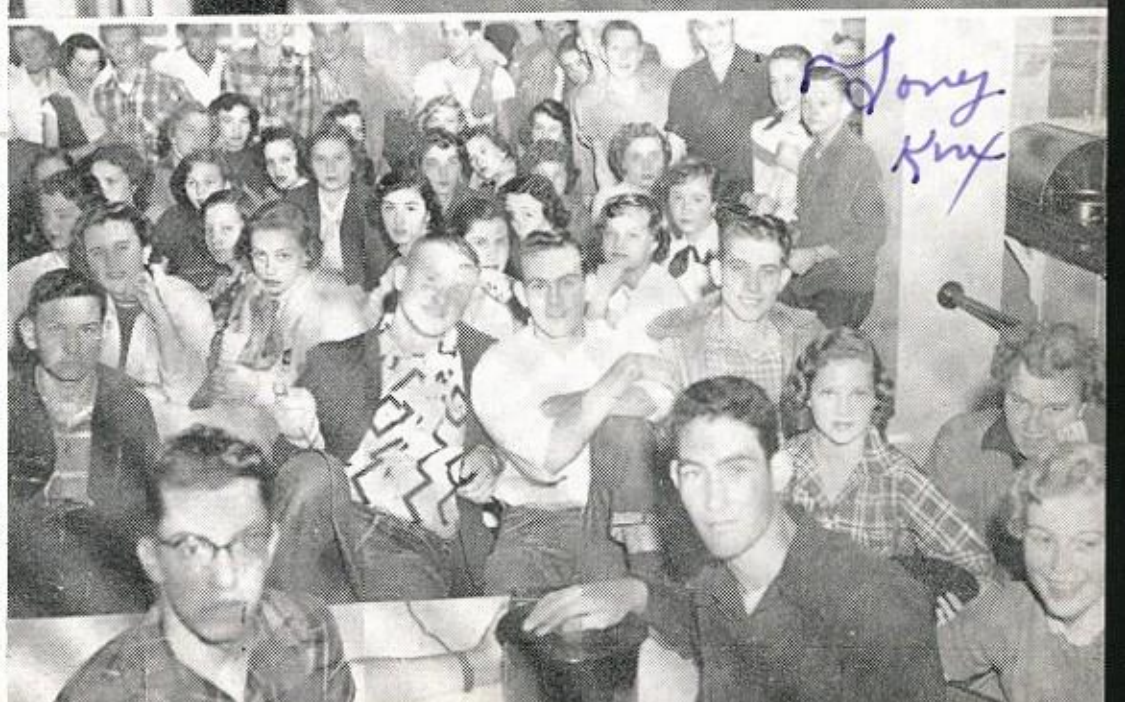


CAMPING CLUB

Skills and hobbies connected with outdoor living occupy the time of the 22 members of the Camping Club. Clockwise: Clinton Cravens, Jerry Cantwell, Sarah McClure, Doris Keene, Granville Bennett, Elmer Harris, Shirley Groce, Mrs. Tucker, Tommy Armstrong, Gloria Caylor, Mary Phillips, Pauline Aiken, Clydine Aiken, Madie Richardson, Charles Franklin, Ralph Boatman, A. G. McAfee, Thelbert Howard, Mirtis Hansard, and V. V. Miller.

RECORD CLUB—Reeves

The second record club has the same activity program as the one described above.



SENIOR DRAMATIC CLUB

The "Footlighters" are in charge of dramatic productions in SHS. Besides acting in the fall production, Variety Show play, Senior Play, and Contest Play, members also assist on stage crews and often help to direct class plays. Anne Young, Jannette Henry, Barbara Lemmons, Jenny Grimmett, Ruth King, Miss Joyce Gray, and Charles Miller discuss costumes and sound records.

RIFLE CLUB

To learn how to handle, care for, and shoot a rifle safely is the objective of these rifle club members. Sammy Davis holds the rifle while a group of club members pose as representatives of the club.

Automotive Mechanics

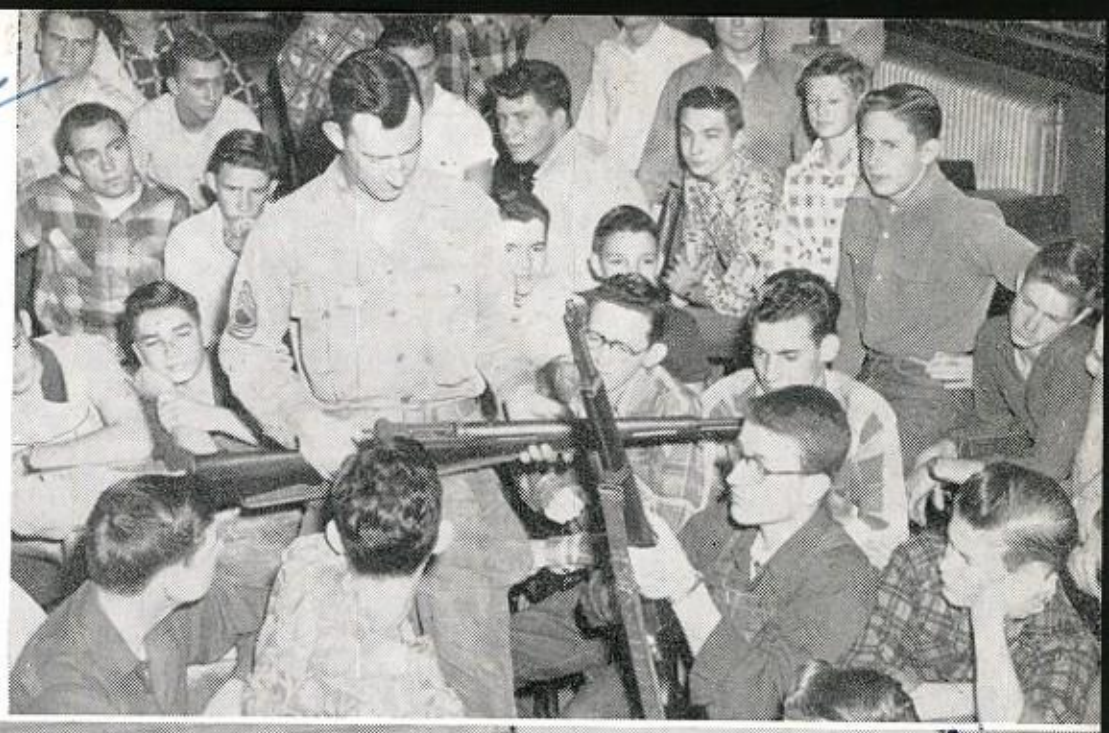
DANCE CLUB

For lack of room, the ball-room dancing and the square dancing clubs were combined into one club. Members are interested in practicing new steps as well enjoying the club period.

Military Science Club

A member of the local National Guard demonstrates the parts of an army rifle to an interested audience. There are 60 members in this club.



Telephone Girls

Lela Ann Easterly, Stella Phillips, Peggy Mosier, Lelia Mae Chase, Wanda Hightower, Carole Griffin, Mrs. Byron Davis, Sponsor, Margaret Laws, Sara McClure, Orwilda Jenkins are the young ladies who receive all incoming telephone messages in the Principal's office and answer questions of general information.

Mr. E. M. Sonnenburg demonstrates his new directing technique.

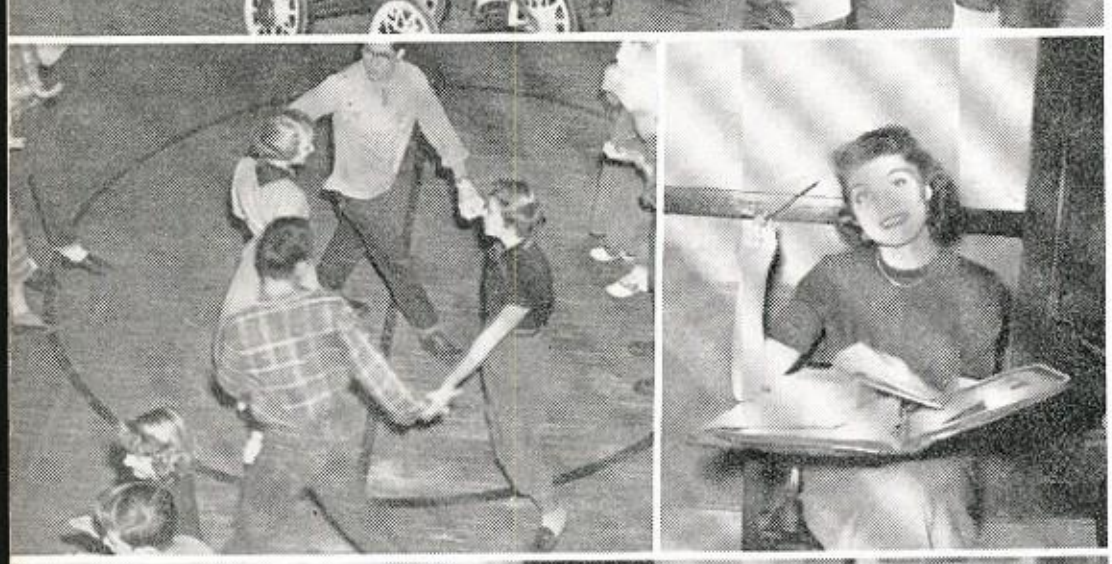
Don McDonald seems to be interested in the "mama doll" as he talks to Sophomores L. D. Sinclair, Bobbie Joyce Center, Jimmy Perry, Karen Kleiner, Louise Simonds, and Patsy Justice.



Members of the Dance Club "circle four hand round." Clockwise: Joann Buckley, Charles Ketchum, Geneva Parker, and Ronald Jenkins.

Joan Graves doesn't seem to consider monitoring such a dull job.

Bearcats take care of a Texarkana Tiger to climax a pep rally.

Members of the Make-Up Club confer with the Footlighters on make-up for "Our Town." Clockwise: Carolyn Clayton, Greta Mode, Jannette Henry, Juanita Wise, Jean Graves, Carroll Brown, Joan Graves, Patsy Proffitt.

Majorettes Wynona Hopson, Delores Rodriguez, Paula Lawson, and Shirley Petty kick to band music at the Gainesville game.

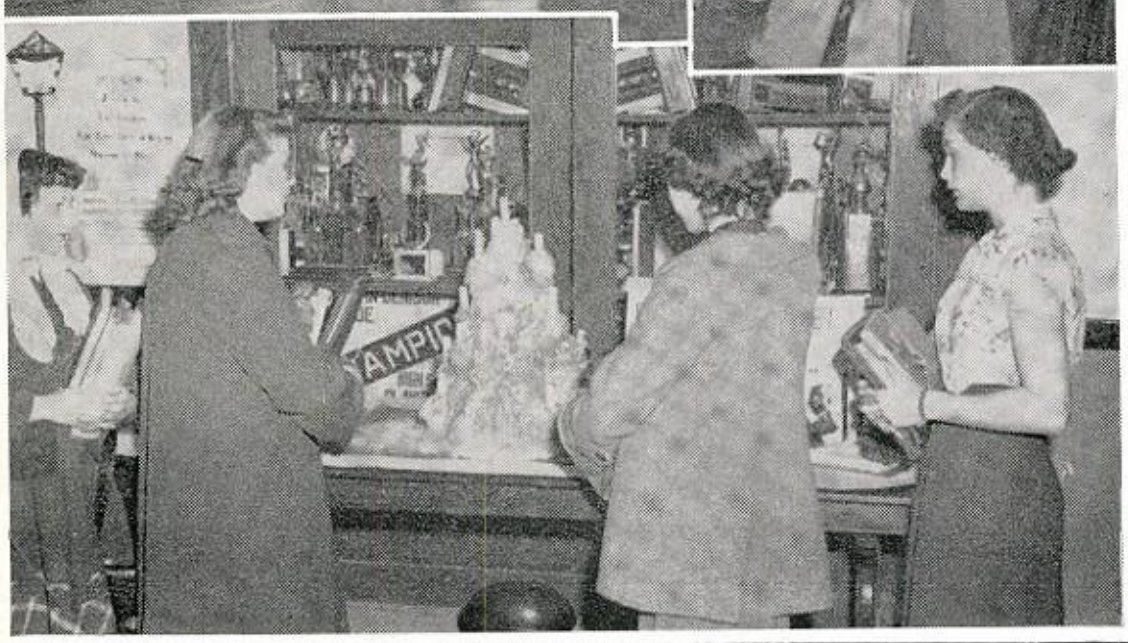
This group presents a program for a Freshman Class meeting. Jack Sanders is the studious boy. On the front row are Rosemary Nations, Shirley Jones, and Gene Troutz. Dorothy Armstrong on the second row.

Bridesmaid Joe Wolfe shyly hides behind his bouquet at the Senior "Womanless Wedding." Herbert Twyford, groom, and Robert Sizemore, bride, are flanked by attendants Robert Bradley and Bob Hughes.



That stag line seems awfully interested n someone!

This picture looks familiar — haven't we seen it somewhere before?

The Band and Cheerleaders seem to be enjoying the Senior pep rally skit. Characters are Ray Howdeshell and Robert Bradley.

Which fork to use seems to pose a problem for Stanley Phipps and Richard Thornton. The luncheon honoring Dr. Bernice Moore of the Hogg Foundation is served by Shirley Ewing in the homemaking dining room.

Another group of members of the Model Builders Club — made on a cloudy day! Their sponsor, Mr. Jack Wilson, is in the background.

Barbara Wible and Wayne Gill, center, get real expression in their lines at an operetta rehearsal. Ray King and Greta Mode lend support.

The crowd enjoys a Student Council Christmas dance in the gymnasium, complete with Christmas tree.

Patsy Proffitt concentrates on "One, Two, Buckle My Shoe."

The rest of that stag line — still looking at the same object as on page 170.
